

UKAN Workshop on Soundscapes

Date

Tuesday 5th April 2022
10:00 – 17:00

Location

Dyson Building
Dyson School of Design Engineering
Imperial College London
Imperial College Road
SW7 2DB, London UK

The purpose of this workshop is to explore UK research in soundscapes, encourage knowledge exchange and discuss future directions, and provide an opportunity to form teams and consortia for future research collaborations and funding proposals. To ease the discussions, the workshop will take place in person (assuming COVID regulations will allow it). The presentations might be recorded and streamed.

The workshop focus will be on both outdoor and indoor soundscapes, and will move beyond the more traditional research on the subject, looking at different aspects such as sensing, AI, policy, etc. Thereby, participants will have the opportunity to explore research from different areas and topics, and meet others who might not normally attend the same conference venues.

To submit an expression of interest in attending please complete the following application form by the 23rd of February. We strongly encourage UK researchers, no matter their background or experience, to consider applying especially early career researchers or those who belong to underrepresented groups.

Schedule:

The workshop will consist of 2 parts:

Morning: Focussed more on presentations on different topics;

Afternoon: In which we'll run a World Café event, as well as a panel discussion.
